

Training course «Effective Advocacy at the United Nations Human Rights Mechanisms», April 19-20, 2019, Moscow

Trainers:

Christien Wildeman

Counsel. Attorney at law, Kennedy van der Laan

Christien is counsel in the IP/ Media team of law firm Kennedy van der Laan. Her practice focuses on the media, free speech, soft IP, internet law and media regulation. Christien is a very experienced media litigator. Christien's media defence work has led to a variety of ground breaking media case law. Christien studied at Leiden University and Monash University (Melbourne, Australia). She holds Master degrees in civil and criminal law and has worked as a clerk of the Amsterdam Court of Appeal.

Emiel Jurjens

Attorney at law, Kennedy van der Laan

Emiel Jurjens represents media and journalists in court in high-profile cases relating to the freedom of speech. He also deals with commercial disputes involving media and cases which relate to intellectual property rights and/or fundamental rights. Emiel is one of the experts advising Dutch and international media and online platforms on media regulation. Emiel is a part of the renowned media team of Kennedy Van der Laan (2018: Chambers tier 1 and Legal 500 band 1). He teaches and publishes regularly on subjects including fake news, the right to be forgotten and media regulation.

Nataliya Sekretaryova

Senior Lawyer, Institute for Law and Public Policy

Nataliya holds a law degree from Moscow State University School of Law and an Advanced LL.M. degree from Leiden University. Her professional interests include public international law, criminal law and procedure, protection of women's rights, and protection against discrimination.

Olga Podoplelova

Senior Lawyer, Institute for Law and Public Policy

Olga graduated from the National Research University Higher School of Economics School of Law. Her professional and academic interests include constitutional safeguards for social rights, protection against discrimination, and rights of indigenous peoples. She has brought successful claims to both the Russian

Constitutional Court and the European Court of Human Rights in matters involving civil law and procedure, criminal law and procedure, social welfare law, and protection of lawyers' professional rights.

Sophie de Graaf

Policy and Program Officer at Lawyers for Lawyers

Lawyers for Lawyers is an independent Dutch lawyers' organization advocating for lawyers around the world who are threatened or suppressed in the exercise of their profession. As Policy and Program officer, Sophie develops and manages Lawyers for Lawyers' global Defend, Empower and Influence programs to support lawyers at risk, empower them to fulfil their role as essential agents of the administration of justice, and to strengthen their international recognition and protection in laws, policies and practices at national and international level, including through human rights mechanisms of the United Nations. Sophie holds a cum laude bachelor's degree in law from the University of Amsterdam and Copenhagen University, and a master's degree in Public International Law from the University of Amsterdam.

Tamilla Abdul-Aliyeva

Attorney at law, Kennedy van der Laan

Tamilla is a junior associate at the Privacy practice group of Kennedy Van der Laan. She advises both Dutch and international companies in matters concerning data protection, e-privacy and telecommunications. During her bachelor's, Tamilla spent a semester studying international law in Vienna (Austria). Tamilla graduated in 2017 from the University of Amsterdam, where she completed her Master's degree specialising in Information Law.